

If the FCC allows the Broadband on Power Line to increase it's power it will interfere greatly with the Amateur Radio Service. Amateur Radio will be the only means of communications in the United States of America when a terrorist attack takes place. If Amateur Radio is eliminated by the increase in power requested by the BPL folks we would have no means of emergency communications in the United States of America. If this increase in power is allowed I would ask that ALL of the power lines in the United States of America be placed underground before this power increase occurs. That would alleviate much of the interference and allow the Amateur Radio Service to remain in existence.
